ACTION FOR HAPPINESS

Join the movement. Be the change

We all want to lead a happy life and want the people we love to be happy too. But as a society we are not giving this enough priority. Despite decades of economic growth we are no happier now than we were sixty years ago. We need to re-think our priorities.

The good news is that our actions and choices can affect our happiness. What makes us happy has less to do with our money or possessions and more to do with our attitudes and relationships with other people.

Action for Happiness is a movement of people from all walks of life who are taking action in their personal lives, communities, workplaces and schools to help create a happier and more caring society.

We help people learn practical ways to increase their well-being and make others happier too, all based on the latest scientific evidence of what really works. You can start with these Ten keys to happier living.

A happier world is possible. Your actions really make a difference.

“I will try to create more happiness and less unhappiness in the world around me”

Do things for others

Caring about others is fundamental to our happiness. Helping other people is not only good for them, it's good for us too. It makes us happier and can help to improve our health. Giving also creates stronger connections between people and helps to build a happier society for everyone. And it's not all about money - we can also give our time, ideas and energy. So if you want to feel good, do good!

RELATING

Connect with people

Our relationships with other people are the most important thing for our happiness. People with strong relationships are happier, healthier and live longer. Our close relationships with family and friends provide love, meaning, support and increase our feelings of self worth. Our broader social networks bring a sense of belonging. So it's vital that we take action to strengthen our relationships and make new connections.

QUESTION

What helps you stay close to the people that really matter?

INSPIRATION

“ People will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel ” ~ Maya Angelou

ACTION IDEAS

- Make more time for the people who matter. Chat with a loved one or friend, call your parents or play with the kids.
- Make three extra connections today. Stop to chat in the shop, wave at a neighbour, learn the name of someone new.

EXERCISING

Take care of your body

Our body and mind are connected. Being active makes us happier as well as being good for our physical health. It instantly improves our mood and can even lift us out of a depression. We don't all have to run marathons - there are simple things we can do to be more active each day. We can also boost our well-being by spending time outdoors, eating healthily, unplugging from technology and getting enough sleep!

QUESTION

Which ways of being active and healthy do you really enjoy?

INSPIRATION

“Try to limit your sitting and sleeping to just 23 and a half hours a day” ~ Dr Mike Evans

ACTION IDEAS

- Be more active today. Get off a bus a stop early, take the stairs, turn off the TV, go for a walk - anything that gets you moving.
- Eat nutritious food, drink more water, catch up on sleep. Notice which healthy actions lift your mood and do more of them.

APPRECIATING

Notice the world around

Have you ever felt there must be more to life? Well good news, there is! And it's right here in front of us. We just need to stop and take notice. Learning to be more mindful and aware does wonders for our well-being, whether it's on our walk to work, the way we eat or in our relationships. It helps us get in tune with our feelings and stops us dwelling on the past or worrying about the future - so we get more out of the day-to-day.

QUESTION

What do you notice about where you are and how you feel right now?

INSPIRATION

“ Learning how to be still, to really be still and let life happen - that stillness becomes a radiance ” ~ Morgan Freeman

ACTION IDEAS

- Give yourself a bit of head space. At least once a day, stop and take 5 minutes to just breathe and be in the moment.
- Notice and appreciate good things around you every day, big or small. Trees, bird song, the smell of coffee, laughter perhaps?

TRYING OUT

Keep learning new things

Learning affects our well-being in lots of positive ways. It exposes us to new ideas and helps us stay curious and engaged. It also gives us a sense of accomplishment and helps boost our self-confidence and resilience. There are many ways to learn new things throughout our lives, not just through formal qualifications. We can share a skill with friends, join a club, learn to sing, play a new sport and so much more.

QUESTION

What have you learnt or tried out for the first time recently?

INSPIRATION

“ As long as you live, keep learning how to live ” ~ Seneca

ACTION IDEAS

- Do something for the first time today. Sample sushi, try a new route, read a different newspaper or visit a local place of interest.
- Learn a new skill, however small. A first aid technique or a new feature on your phone. Cook a new meal or use a new word.

DIRECTION

Have goals to look forward to

Feeling good about the future is really important for our happiness. We all need goals to motivate us and these have to be challenging enough to excite us, but also achievable. If we try to attempt the impossible this creates unnecessary stress. Choosing meaningful but realistic goals gives our lives direction and brings a sense of accomplishment and satisfaction when we achieve them.

QUESTION

What is your most important goal over the next six months?

INSPIRATION

“ A wise person knows which goals are ultimately fulfilling and which offer only the illusion of fulfilment ” ~ Robert Emmons

ACTION IDEAS

- Take the first step. Think of a goal you're aiming for and do one thing to get started. Make a call, fill in that form, tell others.
- Share your dreams. Tell 3 people about an aspiration that is really important to you this year and listen to theirs too.

Find ways to bounce back
www.actionforhappiness.org

RESILIENCE

Find ways to bounce back

All of us have times of stress, loss, failure or trauma in our lives. How we respond to these events has a big impact on our well-being. We often cannot choose what happens to us, but we can choose how we react to what happens. In practice it's not always easy, but one of the most exciting findings from recent research is that resilience, like many other life skills, can be learned.

QUESTION

What has helped you bounce back from difficult times before?

INSPIRATION

“ Everything can be taken from a man but one thing: the last of the human freedoms: to choose one's attitude in any given set of circumstances ” ~ Viktor Frankl

ACTION IDEAS

- Ask for help today. Confide in a friend, talk to an expert, reach out to a colleague, ask a neighbour to lend a hand.
- When something is troubling you, do something you really enjoy. Shift your mood and bring a new perspective on the problem.

ACTION FOR HAPPINESS

Take a positive approach
www.actionforhappiness.org

EMOTION

Take a positive approach

Positive emotions - like joy, gratitude, contentment, inspiration, and pride - don't just feel good when we experience them. They also help us perform better, broaden our perception, increase our resilience and improve our physical health. So although we need to be realistic about life's ups and downs, it helps to focus on the good aspects of any situation - the glass half full rather than the glass half empty.

QUESTION

What good things have happened in your life recently?

INSPIRATION

“Enjoy the little things in life, for one day you'll look back and realise they were big things” ~ Kurt Vonnegut

ACTION IDEAS

- Do something that you know will make you feel good. Listen to music, watch something funny, get outside or call an old friend.
- Try to smile and say something positive every time you walk into a room. Notice the reaction you get.

ACTION FOR HAPPINESS

Be comfortable with who you are
www.actionforhappiness.org

ACCEPTANCE

Be comfortable with who you are

No-one's perfect. But so often we compare a negative view of ourselves with an unrealistic view of other people. Dwelling on our flaws - what we're not rather than what we've got - makes it much harder to be happy. Learning to accept ourselves, warts and all, and being kinder to ourselves when things go wrong, increases our enjoyment of life, our resilience and our well-being. It also helps us accept others as they are.

QUESTION

What are your greatest strengths or hidden talents?

INSPIRATION

“ Friendship with oneself is all important, because without it one cannot be friends with anyone else in the world ” ~ Eleanor Roosevelt

ACTION IDEAS

- Ask a trusted friend or colleague to tell you what they think your real strengths are. Try to make more use of these.
- Be as kind to yourself as you are to others. See your mistakes as opportunities to learn. Notice things you do well, however small.

ACTION FOR HAPPINESS

THE MEANING OF LIFE

ACTION FOR HAPPINESS

Be part of something bigger
www.actionforhappiness.org

MEANING

Be part of something bigger

People who have meaning and purpose in their lives are happier, feel more in control and get more out of what they do. They also experience less stress, anxiety and depression. But where do we find meaning and purpose? It might come from doing a job that makes a difference, our religious or spiritual beliefs, or our family. The answers vary for each of us but they all involve being connected to something bigger than ourselves.

QUESTION

Which aspects of your life give you a real sense of purpose?

INSPIRATION

“Act as if what you do makes a difference.
It does” ~ William James

ACTION IDEAS

- Feel part of something bigger. Spend time with children, visit an inspiring location, gaze at the stars or join a club.
- Be more charitable. Give others your time, offer to help neighbours or friends, consider giving blood or volunteering.
